

IN HARM'S WAY

Psychological Survival

For Law Enforcement Officers & First Responders

October 14, 2016
Orlando

There is a brutal truth in law enforcement...that an officer is more likely to be a victim of suicide than a homicide. More officers die from suicide than from line-of-duty deaths, yet little is being done to address this highly preventable loss.

It is time for agencies to recognize the fact that the extreme stressors their officers and first responders face on a daily basis eventually take a toll. Every law enforcement officer, first responder, trainer, supervisor, and executive needs to know about the signs of suicide and what steps can be taken to prevent it. The stigma of asking for help must be stripped away and the need for open and frank discussion should be encouraged.

It takes courage to ask for help.

Be courageous.
